The Crossing Arts Alliance presents

Creative Writing Boot Camp: strive to tell great stories.

During this one day workshop, we will discuss some of the components of story — a setting that immerses the reader in your story world, conflict that keeps your reader turning the page, and dialogue with fluidity, flowing like clear water without lumps and bumps. We'll talk about some of the common missteps writers make and how to avoid them, touching on point of view, writing that important first page, and creating interesting characters.

This creative writing workshop is under the direction of award winning author Candace Simar (Abercrombie Trail series) and creative writing teacher Angela F. Foster.

Saturday, January 12, 2013, 9 am to 5 pm
